Twenty-six years ago Calm Waters began as an outreach component of INTEGRIS Baptist Medical Center. Sondra Woodruff's husband died in his sleep, leaving two children to raise- Jenny and Jason. At 9-years-old, Jason watched a program about a children's grief center in Oregon, which provided grief support groups to children and their families. After his father's unexpected death, Jason wondered why there wasn't a place for grieving children in Oklahoma. He wanted a place where he could share his feelings with others also on their grief journey. Because of one child's grief for his father and the desire for a safe place for others on their grief journey, Calm Waters was born.
